

Canada Federal Offenders 2003

- The sexual offence reconviction rate was very low (0.7% to 1.7%)
- Sexual recidivism, a subset of violent recidivism, is more infrequent even among known sex offenders.
- New sexual offences resulting in a conviction were infrequent. Forty-nine inmates or 0.7% of the sample recidivated with a sexual offence in the 1994/95 cohort, 1.0 % (n = 36) in the 1995/96 cohort, and 1.7% (n = 61) in the 1996/97 cohort.